

Avlite Systems Awarded Contract to Light 14 Remote Airfields, Northern Territory

In July, Avlite Systems beat a competitive field to win a government contract to supply over 700 solar LED aviation lights to 14 remote airfields across the Northern Territory, Australia.

Avlite has been supplying airfield lighting into Northern Australia for almost 4 years, and the products are tried and tested against the extreme elements of heat, UV exposure and sandstorms.

As a testament to the company's manufacturing capabilities, Avlite committed to supplying goods under the contract within 2 weeks of award.

Business Development Manager Sharon Bedson commented:

'We appreciate the vote of confidence the NT Government has given us in repeatedly using our equipment for remote airstrips in the country, and always enjoy close working relationships with the stakeholder in these types of programs.'
