Sealite USA, LLC (t/a Avlite Systems) Achieve ISO Certification for the USA Manufacturing Facility.

Tilton, New Hampshire, August 9, 2018 –Sealite USA, LLC announces the successful completion of the International Organization for Standardization (ISO) 9001:2015 audit for its manufacturing facility and processes. The awarded ISO Certification is evidence of Sealite’s commitment to quality manufacturing processes and highlights its corporate vision to deliver the highest quality aids to navigation products for the aviation and marine markets.

Achieving ISO Certification is an important step for both of the company’s trademarked product lines, Avlite and Sealite. Avlite sells approach and airfield lighting to the aviation, helipad and obstruction markets and serves government and private clients who mandate ISO certified suppliers. The Sealite product line of buoys, marine lanterns, and related aids to navigation products will also benefit from the Certification due to strict federal manufacturing requirements mandated by its government clients.

ISO is the world’s largest developer of voluntary International Standards. Compliance is verified through an independent agency to “keep people and goods moving safely and efficiently while encouraging responsible business and meaningful growth,” (source: ISO website).

Sealite USA’s President, Tara Stewart, expressed her appreciation for the company’s commitment to the ISO standards. "Sealite and Avlite have always been committed to providing the highest quality, most innovative, safe, and reliable aid to navigation products. The ISO quality management system requires us to continuously improve our designs, manufacturing processes, and sales processes today and into the future. It’s a core value across all four of our global offices and amongst all our employees."
